Professional summary

Scientist, chiropractor, and licensed acupuncturist in private practice in New York City since 1984 (acupuncture since 1996). Ph.D. in Analytical Chemistry; Doctor of Chiropractic; Licensed Acupuncturist. Currently Chair of the Accreditation Commission for Acupuncture and Herbal Medicine (ACAHM).

Academics

Gettysburg College — B.A., Chemistry	1969–1973
University of Maryland — Ph.D., Chemistry	1973–1978
University of Georgia — Post-doctoral fellow, Chemistry	1979
Life University — D.C., Chiropractic	1980–1983
Pacific College of Oriental Medicine — L.Ac., Acupuncture	1993–1996
Pacific College of Oriental Medicine — Herbology	2006–2007

Professional / work history

Private practice in chiropractic, New York City, 1984–present.
Private practice in acupuncture, New York City, 1996–present.
Oxford HealthCare Tier 1 Specialist Provider (Acupuncture and Chiropractic), 1997–present.
Owner and Founder, Chapter 1 Software, Inc. — management solutions for medical and chiropractic offices. Founded 1983; incorporated 1988.
Assistant Professor of Research, Life University, 1980–1984.
Graham Perdue Post-Doctoral Research Fellow, Chemistry Department, University of Georgia, 1979.
Research/teaching assistant, University of Maryland, 1973–1978.

Leadership, service, and awards

Chair, Accreditation Commission for Acupuncture and Herbal Medicine (ACAHM)	2026–present
Commissioner, Accreditation Commission for Acupuncture and Herbal Medicine (ACAHM)	2023–2026
Site visitor, Accreditation Commission for Acupuncture and Herbal Medicine	2019–2022
Lifetime Achievement Award, Acupuncture Society of New York (ASNY)	2018
Member and Chair, NYS Department of Education State Board of Acupuncture	2010–2020
World Health Organization: peer review of ICD-11 (Traditional Medicine)	2015–2016
Quality and Safety Group (WHO) — Adverse Events in Traditional Medicine	2012–2013
Member, American Association of Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine Insurance Committee	2011–2013
Board member and President, Manhattan Chapter, New York State Chiropractic Association	2005–2013
Board member and President, Acupuncture Society of New York (ASNY)	2005–2012
Board member and President, 360 West 22nd Street Owners Corp (residential coop)	2014–2022
Grant proposal reviewer, Foundation for Chiropractic Education and Research	1980–1984
Research Editor, Today's Chiropractic, Life University, Georgia	1980–1984
